DEMOCRATS OF PENNSYLVANIA ADOPT PLATFORM FULL OF PEPPER AND GINGER

Allentown, Pa., June 16.—Representatives of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania in convention here nominated the following state ticket:

Governor, Webster Grim, Bucks county.

Lieutenant Governor, Samuel R. Price, Lackawanna county.

Secretary of Internal Affairs, John I. Blackstone, Carbon.

State Treasurer, Samuel R. Philson, Berks.

A platform had been approved by the state executive committee but a faction led by former judge James Gay Gordon of Philadelphia, succeeded in making a few of the platform somewhat more "peppery" than they were in their original form.

The platform follows:

The Platform.

Recognizing that a wise and frugal government is one which restrains men from injuring one another, which leaves them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and labor the bread it has earned, we, the representatives of the Pennsylvania Democracy, in convention assembled, do hereby declare for the following principles, save the platform.

First.—That the present Payne-Adams tariff law is fraud upon the masses, securing profits to particular classes and combinations of producers and a means of patronage rather than a means of protection; we favor an immediate revision of the tariff by the reduction of import duties. Articles entering into competition with trust-controlled products and the necessity of life should be exempt from such taxation.

We hold that federal taxation, in whatever form imposed, is justifiable only to the extent that may be needed for the maintenance of government, honestly and economically administered. And we believe that a majority of the lawful trusts now in existence are the direct and natural result of excessive tariff duties.

Second.—We declare that such trusts and monopolies should be abolished or controlled by the supervision and management of their business by legislation and by visiting penalties upon the

MONEY FOR RECLAMATION SERVICE IS ASSURED BY ACTION OF THE SENATE

Washington, D. C., June 16.—With $30,000,000 provided for the completion of irrigation projects and various other amendments; the house bill authorizing the withdrawal of public lands by the president passed the senate Wednesday.

The bill was taken up soon after the senate convened and a vote was ordered on the Carter amendment authorizing the issuance of $30,000,000 worth of certificates of indebtedness for irrigation. There was no debate and the amendment was accepted with practical unanimity, senators Burton, Gallinger and Kean casting the only negative votes out of a total of 60.

The senate passed the bill for the reclamation loan earlier in the session, but the house declined to pass it. To get it through anyhow, Mr. Carter had it tacked onto the house conservation bill. It will now go to conference and the house will likely be compelled to accept it. This will provide money enough to complete all reclamation projects in the country.

THE FOURTH TO BE CELEBRATED WITH GIGANTIC PATRIOTIC PROGRAM

Committee on Arrangements Arranges for Lots of Music, a Big Parade and Plenty of Fireworks.

El Paso is going to have a Fourth of July celebration that will wake up the whole surrounding country. At least it looks that way now.

There will be a parade in the morning with military troops, bands, automobiles, lodges, policemen and firemen in line; patriotic exercises in Cleveland square afterwards, a band concert and races for the children with a family basket picnic at Washington park afterwards, then a ball game in the afternoon and the big event, the fireworks and a band concert in the evening. This is the plan of the committee if everything goes well, and there is no reason why it should not.

Ponder, sometimes called "Judge," has promised all the money necessary, and the committee is making preparations to spend it. Ponder is a celebrator from the top of his new straw hat to the bottom of his patent leather shoes. The Fourth is to be celebrated, and he has had something to do with every Fourth of July celebration since he came to El Paso, from blowing one of the McGinty horns to furnishing ample storage capacity for the barbecue product. This year he is out with a list and moving like a Mexican revolutionist, raising for Texas after exploding a bomb under a troop of rurales. He started out by landing Dick Caples for $50, the street car company for another $50. A. Courchesne, Felix Martinez, A. Schwartz and just a lot of others for amounts not at all small, and is going to keep it up until he gets $100. It will take this much for the celebration and Ponder promises every cent of it if he has to go down to the county court house and collect it in dollar donations from politicians and volunteer firemen seeking to be excused from jury duty.

Fireworks a Plenty.

Judge F. E. Hunter is going to burn $300 of the money as soon as Ponder gets it. The judge is another one of those old timers who just sort of thinks Fourth of July is a day to act patriotic and even foolish, so the judge is going to burn money that day. If they ever tried to pull off any fireworks in El Paso without Frank Hunter at the trigger, there would be an explosion bigger than the fireworks. He is the real daddy of the fireworks game for El Paso and, as usual, he is going to pull off the big show this year. And just to have a little say in it, Mr. Hunter insists that some more money must go to pay for the Port Blue band to play while the people watch the fireworks. So this will take some more of Ponder's money.

Afternoon Concert.

Then there is a concert for the afternoon at the park, from 2 to 4. Concha's band is going to play for this concert. Some more money. But Ponder doesn't care, for this is for the tired mothers and the boys and girls, who will be out under the trees on the grass with their baskets for a good time.

The parade in the morning will take some more money, for hands have to be hired, but again it is something the people will want to see. It will pull the crowds out of the homes and downtown for the patriotic exercises. The exercises will immediately follow the parade and will comprise a prayer by Dr. C. S. Wright, an oration by country Judge A. S. J. Elyar and the reading of the declaration of Independence. Rabbi Martin Zlotnik will read it if he is not away on his vacation.

The parade will be in charge of elderman Percy McGhee, and will consist of the troops from Fort Bliss, headed by their band, commanded by Col. Alfred C. Sharpe, the city fire department, the local militia company, the various fraternal and benevolent societies of the city, and automobile owners and all others, especially the officers of organizations, who can enter, to notify him as early as possible so that he can arrange the details of the parade.

Following the parade and the patriotic exercises in Cleveland square, the people will go to Washington park for a basket picnic under the trees. The children will have sports and then the baseball teams will play and then the fireworks will come at night.

Free Transportation.

General manager H. J. Simmons, of the El Paso & Southwestern railroad, will transport the troops to and from the post free of charge. As a courtesy to the troops for parading, the committee has extended an invitation to attend the baseball game in the afternoon and see the fireworks at night. In fact to participate with the citizens throughout the celebration of the great holiday.

It is going to be another big Fourth. Anybody who wants to help the cause along can send money to The Herald office and it will be acknowledged and turned over to the committee.

COLQUITT MAY REPUDIATE PLATFORM

of a nomination which none of them will concede as certain.

Colquitt's Stand.

But what has Colquitt to say in defense of his stand?

"I don't think that the supporters of Poindexter, Johnson and Davidson will be willing to form a platform in antagonism to the views of the candidate of the party chosen by the people," says Mr. Colquitt. "In case I am nominated, and my nomination is certain, I have no doubt that the Democrats who are now supporting my opponents will vote for me in the general election because they have promised to do so. If a voter is not willing to abide by the results of the primary he should stay out of it."

"Well, Mr. Colquitt, if you so firmly believe that a voter who is not willing to abide by the results of the primary should stay out of it, then why do you say in advance that you will not abide by the result if it does not suit your views?" is the question put to Mr. Colquitt.

Colquitt's Double Deal.

In answering it, he discusses the constitution and says where the party pledges violate the constitution he is going to stand by the fundamental law of the land.

The Deadly Finger Nail

Every time you scratch yourself you run a risk. To scratch your scalp, a pimple or a scab is dangerous. Your finger nails carry germs of Eczema, Tinea (Locks), Erysipelas and all manner of skin diseases. Let one germ enter the scratched place and trouble is sure to follow. FEDERAL OFFICIALS MAY TELL OF REFUGEES

Attention Directed to El Paso Over Mexican Persecution Stories.

Federal court officials in El Paso may be summoned to appear before the committee of congress which is investigating the alleged persecution of Mexican political prisoners in the United States. A number of cases have been brought up in the United States court here for trial in which Mexican revolutionists and revolutionary affairs were concerned and Murray and Turner, the two men who are now appearing before the congressional committee are familiar with these facts, having spent some time on the border, the El Paso cases may be reviewed before the committee adjourns.

One of the most famous of these cases was the arrest and detention of Enrique C. Villaseor, editor of La Carreta, a Mexican paper opposed to the Creel government, in Chihuahua. Villaseor was arrested in El Paso after having been forced to leave Mexico, he claimed, where he had been imprisoned for political reasons. He was arrested on July 15, 1919, on complaint of the United States attorney general and charged with rape and embezzlement of public money while jefe politico of a small district near Chihuahua. Villaseor's office was also charged against the Mexican editor, but it was openly rumored that Villaseor was being held on these charges merely to have him taken back to Mexico where he could be punished for his political offenses.

The United States commissioner before whom the case was called refused to order him extradited, as there was not sufficient evidence to justify such action. Nothing has been heard of Villaseor since he was released from the custody of the United States court on August 28, but it is understood that he is still living in the United States as he does not dare to return to Mexico for fear of arrest.

TROUBLES OF THE WIRELESS COMPANY

The Government Says They Have Defrauded People; Officials Say No.

New York, June 16.—A raid by United States postoffice inspectors on the handsome Broadway offices of the United Wireless Telegraph company preceded the arrest of Christopher C. Wilson, president of the company; Samuel S. Bogart, first vice president, and William W. Tompkins, president of the New York Selling agency.

Chief Inspector Mayer subsequently gave out a statement in which he charged that although the company has been running at a loss, the price of its shares have been advanced by manipulation of fictitious values, and that individual officers of the company have sold out their stock to the general public at a profit estimated at least at between five and ten millions.

"There are 25,000 shareholders of the company throughout the country," said Inspector Mayer in his statement. "Persons of whom have placed their savings in the stock of the company through false representations by its officers."

"The real assets of the company, consisting of office stations, patents, manufacturing plants and real estate of all kinds appear to be worth at a conservative estimate $400,000 or an actual worth of two cents a share."

Two million shares have been issued at a par value of $10 a share, but the stock has recently been put up to $50 a share.

None of the men arrested had any explanation to make but a statement was given out by C. C. Wilson, general manager of the United, in which he says:

"The action of the federal authorities will in no way affect the commercial business of the company. The difficulties in which stockholders may involve any stock company through unauthorized statements are well known to everyone who has bought up a business in which the sale of stock is a factor."

Arthur M. King, counsel for the United, said that for several months the postoffice department had been harassing the company. He attributed the persecution to the discontent of certain stockholders who might have been unfairly treated by other stockholders.

ANOTHER FIGHT ON RULES OF THE HOUSE IS ON

Washington, D. C., June 16.—The next big rules fight in the house of representatives is brewing. All parties and all factions of parties are expected to consider of what the house shall do to provide means by which a member may recall a bill or resolution from a standing committee after that committee has failed to report. The house is to prevent legislation from being smothered in committee.

Two proposed rules on the subject were offered in the house today—one by Charles Clark of Missouri, leader of the minority, which represents the composite Democratic idea on the subject, and another by Madison, Republican of Kansas, an insurgent leader.

Both the Clark and Madison resolutions were referred to the rules committee which will meet today.
